Gators lose state championship, but gain a lot of memories

Fans flock to Daytona to support their team

By Paula Whitehead
Staff Writer

Approximately 800 Gator fans showed up at the Daytona Municipal Stadium, Saturday, Dec. 11, to cheer on the Gators.

The Glades Day Gators finished their season with a 11-3 record, with their final game being the state championship game, where they were defeated by Graceville 24-7.

There are 68, Class 1A schools that vie for the position to go to the state championship, and out of the 68 only two schools can go, so just getting to the state game is a victory within itself.

To some, the defeat was heartbreaking, but to Jonas Barrestam (Sweden) it was a once in a lifetime event, just the chance to get to attend and participate in the state championship. Especially when you are an exchange student from Switzerland, and have never played the game of football before enrolling in Glades Day.

The Gators had had 12 teams over the past 18 years that have gone to the district playoffs, resulting in three state championship wins and six runner-up trophies. That is quite an accomplishment.

The Gators shut out seven of the 11 teams they played this season, and beat Benjamin by 20 points in the last playoff game.

Danny Scott, running back for the Gators, said this was the first year they had beaten Benjamin in the three years he has been on the team and that was the best feeling of all.

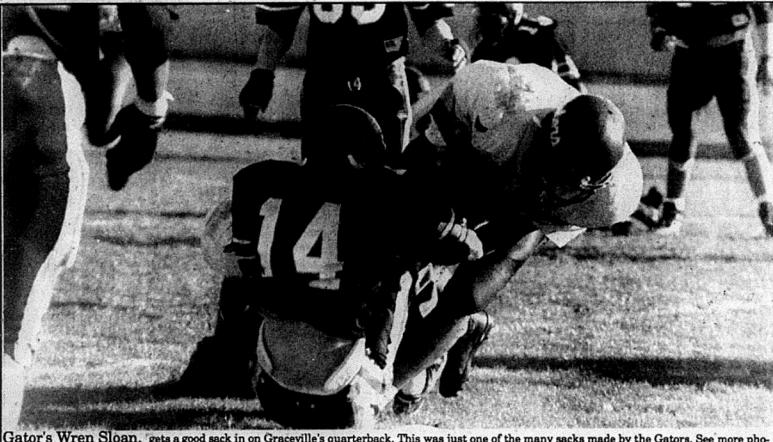

Benjamin, a cross county rival, has beaten Glades Day for the playoff position for the past four years, and now with that win behind them the Gators were headed for Daytona.

The Gators may not have brought home the championship, but they are true champions in the eyes of the people from the Glades.

The team has been devastating all year, winning all but two games and shutting out seven teams, but the one thing the Gators should be commended for is their sportsmanship.

Win or lose, they were always gentlemen about the situation.

Coaches Mandy Perez, Craig Dobson, Pete Walker and Mike Underwood say they are very proud of their team. And their team is very proud of their coaches. They taught them more than just the game of football this year. They taught them the game is about more than just winning; it's about team spirit, and the importance of being a team and working together as one. Winning is just a bonus, being a good sport is the true meaning of being a champion.

Senior Ryan Couson received the Scholar Athlete Recognition Award before the game started on Saturday for having the highest cumulative grade point average of any player on the team. Only one senior from Mandy Perez said he appreciated each team attending the state game receives this done to help the team this year and especially the fans. GPA.

Army Corp of Engineers speaks to concerned citizens about Everglades restoration

By Irene Chandler

Angry citizens packed the John Boy Auditorium Tuesday for two meetings put on by the Army Corps of Engineers.

At the 10 a.m. meeting, Bob Baker, senior vice president, corporate affairs and secretary of the U.S. Sugar Corp., took offense at the tee-shirts worn by the Army Corp of Engineer science study team. They read "Toto, we're not in Kansas anymore." Mr. Baker felt the reference made light of a situation that is very serious to the people of this area.

In fact, the reference to Kansas seemed inappropriate for another reason - Kansas is a dry area, but also one which provides a great deal of food to the country, as Glades farmers do.

But the reference to Toto was useful to Mr. Baker, who compared the Army Corp of Engineers to the cowardly lion. "The Corp needs to have the courage to do what's right," Mr. Baker said.

"Don't treat it in some cutesy little way. You don't live here," he told the Corp group. He also praised the engineers for the water management system they maintain, as did Jack Fry and several other speakers.

"It's a good plan, but it's a bad idea to change water," Bill Green, of the Sugar Cane Growers

Cooperative, said.

"We want to cooperate with the Corp. If you want the farmers to cooperate, you must disown the Science Group Report," he said. Mr. Green called the SWIM plan $7000,000,000 worth of puddles that might work.

The more pointed the comments from local citizens at the podium, the louder the applause from the scientists sitting at a table in the left rear corner of the room.

The deadline to collect comments from citizens is Dec. 30, 1994. Seven of the studies mentioned as reference and source materials in the report either will be published in 1994, or are in press.

Up to 15 people at a time lined up to get a copy of the Sub Group Report. They wore ball caps and plaid shirts, characteristic of a working man. At the front of the auditorium sat four blank easel pads below the question, "What are the important resources in the South Florida Ecosystem?"

"This report didn't mention people. I heard fish, wading birds, fresh water and dirt - no mean soils - in your presentation. My grandfather came here in 1910, he helped drain this land, and make it what it is today. You scare

K-9 handler to leave police-department after 18 years

Some people use their bodies as a canvas to express their individuality or make a statement.

Tattoo artist Ron Shunk has a few tattoos, but he's more apt to show you the host of scars and puncture wounds riddling his arms, legs, and even his chin.

While tattooing is a hobby, training K-9 dogs is how he makes his living, and he has the battle scars to prove it.

Sgt. Shunk, 50, who has trained K-9's for the Belle Glade Police Department for 16 years, is taking early retirement this month after working for the department for 18 years.

He remembers those years as a time of learning and bonding with his animals.

"Any one who deals with K-9 dogs has been bitten," says Sgt. Shunk, "but I've never been bitten by my own dog."

The numerous scars he carries are the result of helping train other officers' dogs and through participating in numerous competitions across the country.

"These dogs are remarkably quick and very tenacious," he says. "It's a game for them and they only bite on command. I'm an animal person, but I refuse to have a dog that has an aggressive personality."

During competition, Sgt. Shunk has been bitten more than once by other trainer's dogs. "They look at me like a T-bone steak," he said.

Each dog costs about $2,300 to purchase and they come to the department with partial training. Martin Segura, a new handler, has a K-9 named Henry. Rick Mathis, also a new handler, has Bardo. Veteran Robert Wheelahan has Bruno and Rubin Prince has Harry.

Man charged with molesting stepdaughter

Tammy Jackson

Staff Reporter

A 53-year-old Belle Glade has been arrested and charged with capital sexual battery after he allegedly sexually molested his stepdaughter. The identity of the suspect is being withheld to protect the identity of the victim.

According to Detective Sgt. John Russ of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department, people suspected there was some sort of abuse. He said people had thought the victim was being sexually abused for some time. However, the youth never did admit she was being molested. "The youth just never cooperated with the investigations before," said Sgt. Russ.

The investigation began after a complaint by the girl (now 16 years old) alleged her stepfather had been molesting her since she was 10 years old.

The youth told investigators her stepfather had been having sexual intercourse with her while they were living in the Belle Glade area. She was in the custody of the stepfather when her mother separated from the family. The victim has since moved away from the Belle Glade area.

During the course of the investigation, an arrest warrant was issued by Judge Cobath for the suspect. The suspect is currently being held in the county jail in West Palm Beach with no bond.

In fact, the reference to Kansas seemed inappropriate for another reason - Kansas is a dry area, but also one which provides a great deal of food to the country, as Glades farmers do.

But the reference to Toto was useful to Mr. Baker, who compared the Army Corp of Engineers to the cowardly lion. "The Corp needs to have the courage to do what's right," Mr. Baker said.

"Don't treat it in some cutesy little way. You don't live here," he told the Corp group. He also praised the engineers for the water management system they maintain, as did Jack Fry and several other speakers.

"It's a good plan, but it's a bad idea to change water," Bill Green, of the Sugar Cane Growers

A few last jumps...Sgt. Ron Shunk's K-9 dog Nero won't be doing too many more jumps since he and his owner are retiring this month. Sgt. Shunk is taking early retirement from the Belle Glade Police Department. He will be going to Georgia to help train K-9's for the Public Safety Training Institute of Georgia.

Glades Central Thespians received superior rating for their performance

Glades Central's Thespian Club received a superior rating recently at the District 10 Thespian one-act play festival held at Suncoast High School.

The acting group was one of 16 schools participating in the competition.

They presented the play "The Land of Counterpane" by M. Ellis Grove.

The Thespians are now eligible to participate in the competition at Indian River Junior College.

Students receiving excellent or superior at that competition will be eligible to compete at the state festival in April, which will be held in Tampa.

First "Fishin' Kids Stay Clean" fishing trip deemed a success

It was a cool day on the ocean, but the sun was shining bright and the gulfstream water was clean and blue.

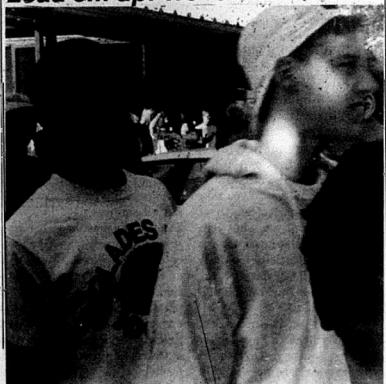

It was memorable day for all 36 passengers who participated in the first parent/child weekend deep sea fishing field trip sponsored by Fishin' Kids Stay Clean, Inc.

A bent rod tip signified that a fish was on! Eight-year-old Michael Anderson, son of Elie Anderson of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Dept., Glades Division, cranked down on a 12 pound test spinning outfit supplied by Executive Director Don Simunek.

After almost 10 minutes of struggle, Michael finally got his mystery fish up to the surface.

"It's a beautiful fish, Mom," said Michael with a big grin on his face. Queen triggerfish are identified by their bright blue/green color and highlighted with streaks of orange running from the head to its fins. "Can I eat it?" was Michael's first question. The answer was, "Yes."

Load 'em up! We're off to state.

me. They are candy coating this," Carl Berner said. Mr. Berner asked Frank Jones and Jack Fry to stand up in the audience. "Look at these people's faces. You have not thought about these people. Are birds more important than people?" he asked. Mr. Fry suggested that the humans in the Everglades Agricultural Area apply to be listed as an endangered species.

Page two of the report mentions tourism as a major industry in south Florida. Agriculture and the runoff of nutrients are mentioned, but its economic impact is not. "In Clewiston, agriculture is responsible for 100 percent of the economy. What about the impact on the

The overall message of this first of many fishing trips is that fishing is a great way to bond parent and child to spend quality time with a young person who needs to feel wanted.

"We have had many success stories with kids in our community and credit needs to be given to the Fishin' Kids project," said Det. Sgt. John Russ of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Dept., Glades Division.

For the past two years, Det. Sgt. Russ has coordinated fishing outings through Fishin' Kids Stay Clean for needy children in the Glades.

"One student always comes to mind when I think of the good that this program has done. The child was someone who did no think anyone cared. I was able to spend time with him on these trips and through becoming friends with other law enforcement officers has turned his life around," commented Sgt. Russ.

Fishin' Kids Stay Clean, Inc. is pursuing funding to establish a monthly deep sea fishing trip free to the public. It centers on children who need attention and it does not matter what their background is.

If you have a child who could benefit from one of these fishing trips, please feel free to call Det. Sgt. John Russ and the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Dept., Glades Division at 996-1670. And remember the Fishin' Kids motto "Fishin' and Hugs are better than drugs!"

attack the arms or legs of a suspect and are only given the command when negotiations fail or a suspect flees.

The Belle Glade Police Department has four K-9 handlers. They all wear protective equipment while training.

Sgt. Shunk has had four dogs over the years. Bear, a German Shepherd, was his first dog.

"He was special," says Shunk. "I guess 'cause he was my first."

Bear had to be put to sleep several years ago because of his injuries and age. Sgt. Shunk then began using Rottweiler dogs and has now a Malinois breed called Nero.

Nero, who is over seven years old, has received many injuries on the job and will retire with his owner.

"He's by far, the smartest and toughest dog I've had," Sgt. Shunk said.

He's proud of the fact that Nero just finished fourth in the nation at the National K-9 competition.

Sgt. Shunk credits Police Chief Michael Miller with the vision to add the K-9 Unit to the department 16 years ago.

"He's been very good. When we started this program, there weren't but about 20 K-9 dogs in the country," said Sgt. Shunk.

"Our dogs are used for beyond the national average, and our K-9 unit is known across the country for their competitive ability and street ability," said Sgt. Shunk.

Sgt. Shunk got his training at the Orlando Police Department and at the U.S. Police K-9 Association Trainers Seminars, which are held all over the country.

"I go once a year. The seminars are held all over the country. Now I'm one of the Priority for services is given to children exhibiting severe emotional and/or behavioral problems whose functioning may further deteriorate without intervention, and children discharged from a state facility, private psychiatric hospital or mental health residential treatment facility.

The center offers a full complement of mental health services which include intake assessment, psychological and psychiatric evaluations, individual, family and group therapy, play therapy, school consultations and case management. Transportation to the center is also provided for families needing their assistance.

The center also provides a specific treatment component for children with Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD). The group services available are parenting, ADHA, sexual abuse, juvenile delinquent, behavior disorder,

"Health Partners" program planned to benefit all citizens

The Palm Beach Blood Bank has initiated a new program in which everyone benefits — patients, donors, the community and the nation.

Called "Health Partners", the program enables repeat blood donors to have the same kind of blood tests performed on their blood that their doctor would ordinarily have done as part of a routine physical examination. These expanded tests are provided by the Blood Bank at various annual donation plateaus — at no expense to the donor — through a series of donations. This allows the repeat donor to meet most of his or her annual health testing at no cost.

Statistics show that the acceptance rate of blood from repeat donors is significantly higher than blood from the occasional or one-time donor. This is because the quality of the blood from repeat donors is higher. Patients in need of blood benefit because a higher acceptance rate increases the quantity of blood components available for patients. The public benefits because the tests further improve the quality of the donor base and help insure an adequate blood supply to meet the community's needs. For more information about the Health Partners Program, call John Flynn at (407) 845-2323.

Breast Cancer Awareness

(NAPS) — It's a fact: one of every nine women will develop breast cancer. But the devastating effects of breast cancer can be lessened when detected early — with the right type of education. And, medical experts continue to insist, early detection is the key to survival.

To heighten awareness of this deadly disease, a number of women's organizations have implemented breast cancer awareness programs that educate and offer support for women learning to avoid or cope with breast cancer. One of the most effective campaigns, for example, is being conducted by Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America. "Hadassah Cares" is a nationwide education program that stresses and promotes the importance of early detection in the treatment of breast cancer.

The coordinated efforts of Hadassah's 1,500 chapters nationwide include letter writing and public awareness campaigns and educational fairs. Local, state and local foundations hope to provide research into the cause of, optimal treatments and a cure for breast cancer.

Free Card

Early detection is also furthered by the use of monthly breast self-exams. A free Breast Cancer Detection Shower Card, which includes step-by-step instructions for self-examination, will, the shower, is available by calling to Hadassah, 50 West 58th Street, New York, NY 10019.

Cruise line sponsors essay contest

American Family Cruises (AFC), the first and only vacation totally dedicated to families travelling with children, in cooperation with the Florida Department of Education, is sponsoring a statewide essay contest highlighting "The Difference My Family Makes." The contest, designed to promote the link between academic achievement and a student's family participation, will recognize Florida students from elementary to high school.

Three grand prize winners will be invited to christen AFC's very first KingShip, the American Adventure, on Dec. 17. The winners will sail with their families on the Adventure's maiden voyage out of Miami Dec. 18. In place of the traditional champagne bottle, the essay contest winners will christen the American Adventure with a giant bottle of Coca-Cola.

Students throughout the State of Florida — in elementary, junior/middle and senior high schools — are being asked to write a narrative essay that describes how their family contributes to their education; the difference their family members make at home, at school

South Bay receives contract for RV park

The Palm Beach County Commission approved a contract with Edens Construction, Inc. in the amount of $2,395,097.45 for the construction of the first phase of the South Bay RV Park.

The first phase will provide for the construction of a lake, all infrastructure improvements and 72 RV sites. The eventual completion of the project will provide 158 RV sites. The project will require five full-time employees to operate the RV park.

The RV park will be accessible to Lake Okeechobee via the adjacent rebuilt City of South Bay Boat Ramp.

South Bay Mayor Clarence Anthony was elated with the contract approval and stated "The South Bay RV Park will be a major new feature to bolster our local economy. We have waited since 1986 for this project and I'm extremely pleased and excited to see it go forward."

A groundbreaking ceremony for the RV park is being planned for January 1994.

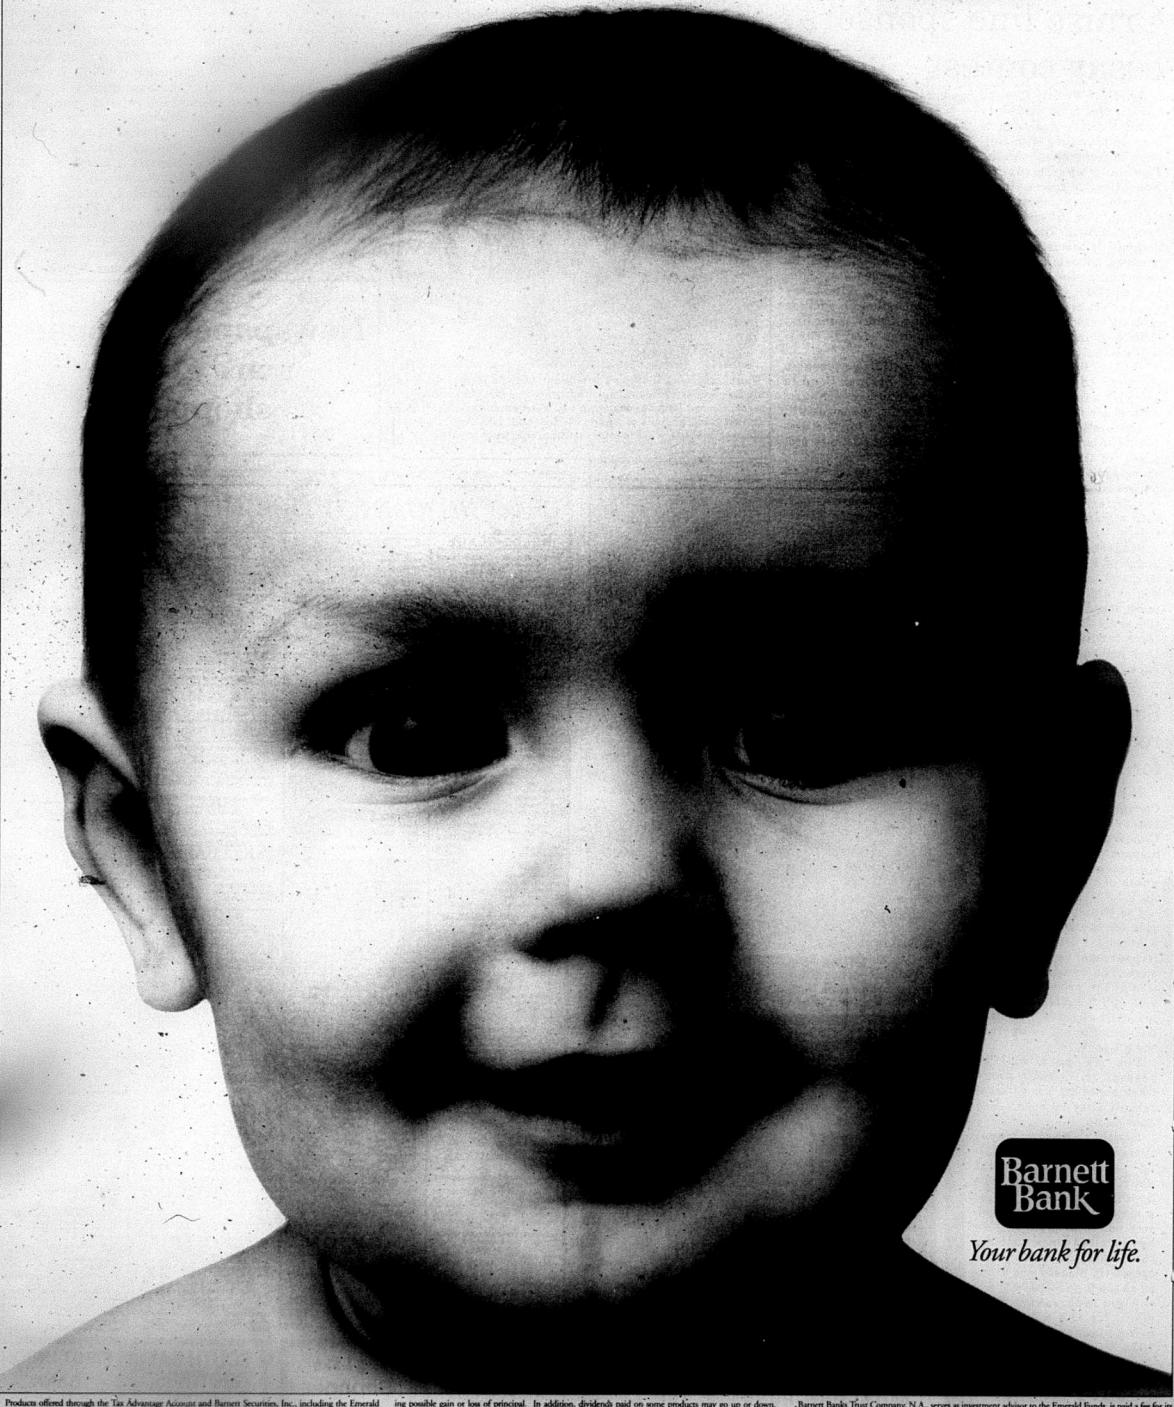

and/or in the community. The best part of the contest is that everyone is a winner. Each student who enters the contest will receive a Certificate of Recognition. More than 200 district finalists in three categories (K-5, 6-8, 9-12) will receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond; grand prize winners and their families will be awarded a seven-day cruise on the American Adventure's inaugural sailing in addition to making history as the first "Godchildren" ever to christen a ship.

AFC will also present a $100 U.S. Savings Bond to the grand prize winners' school boards; the bonds will be earmarked for the districts' college assistance programs.

For more information on the AFC/Florida School System essay contest, contact either Jennifer Schott (ext. 123) or Stephanie Hofmeister (ext. 148) in AFC's public relations department at (305) 358-7325.

Glades Central gives up 21-point lead, relinquishes dreams of winning title

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

The trip to Lake Wales was a long one, but after the 40-35 loss the Raiders were handed by the Highlanders the ride home even seemed longer for fans, the band, the coaches and the team.

The state's Number 1 ranked 3A team exhibited just why they are ranked tops in their class during the second quarter of the game. The Highlanders shook off a great halftime lead by the Raiders and showed the spark that ranked them Number 1. Giving up a 21-point lead in the second half, Glades Central relinquished all hopes of advancing to the state 3A final game to be held in Daytona.

With an estimated crowd of 7,000 fans at Legion Field, the Raiders fought hard in the first half to stay in the running for the state 3A final.

The Raiders fumbled the ball two times and dropped three interceptions in the second half. Head Coach Rick Casko said, "They threw the ball in our hands and we didn't catch it. We had every opportunity to win this game six or seven times over."

With a 21-point halftime lead, the Raiders began to see points on the scoreboard under the visitors slot on their first offensive play of the game.

Junior quarterback Jaduan Seider threw a 95-yard pass to senior Reidel Anthony. Anthony dashed to the end zone beating Lake Wales' fastest football player, Willie Redding, in the man-to-man combat.

Senior Fred Taylor scored on the third offensive play with a 32-yard run after Lake Wales' Henry Bennett fumbled the football.

The Highlanders answered all threats by the Raiders with an 80-yard pass from Chad Barnhardt to Ronnie Daniels. However, Seider of the Raiders took the ball over the goal line on a 1-yard sneak. This play capped a 15-play drive of the Raiders.

Minutes later, Taylor scored from 6 yards out after the Raiders recovered a Highlander fumble deep in their opponent's territory.

Raider Willie McKelvin intercepted a Highlander pass which set up a 19-yard scoring pass from Seider to Nathaniel Freeman. The touchdown gave the Raiders a 35-14 lead at the end of the first half.

After performances by both of the bands, the Raiders returned to the football field. However, when they returned they didn't bring back that same spark that brought them to see semi-final action. The Raiders were unable to put any points on the scoreboard in the second half therefore, the Highlanders took advantage of the situation and moved ahead of the Raiders.

In the second half, a Raider fumble set up a 25-yard run by Highlander Lamar Ward with less than two minutes expired in the third quarter. This was only the first of four unanswered scores by Lake Wales.

The Highlanders came into the third quarter knocking on the door of the Raiders and the Raiders answered but not with points. They answered the door with fumbles, mistakes and an interception.

The Highlander quarterback threw for 265 yards and two touchdowns on 14 completions.

Lake Wales Head Coach Rod Shafer said, "Chad showed why he's the number one quarterback in the state. I've never seen a comeback like that against such a good team."

The Highlanders held Glades Central to only 62 yards total offense in second half action. However, in the final seconds of the game, Glades Central had an opportunity to take the game and make the ride back to Belle Glade shorter and happier when Seider tried anxiously to connect with Anthony at the goal line. However, the pass was intercepted by Willie Redding and the game belonged to Lake Wales.

Anthony ended the game with five catches for 137 yards. Taylor ran the ball 13 times for 80 yards.

At the conclusion of the game, Coach Casko told his team, "We were fighting to the end of the game. Be proud of what you've accomplished."

As one Lake Wales fan was leaving the stadium following the defeat, he said, "I'm so glad we won, but I have to admit, Belle Glade sure did scare me."

Lake Wales received 15 first downs while Glades Central received only nine in the matchup. The Highlanders rushed for 154 yards and the Raiders rushed for 112. As for passing, the Highlanders topped the Raiders with 265 yards to 166. Penalties also were a factor in the game. The Raiders were penalized nine times for 99 yards. The Highlanders were penalized four times for 45 yards.

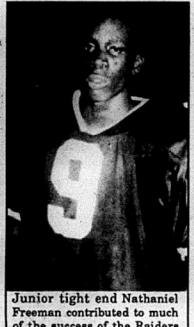

With losses to Olympic Heights and now Lake Wales, the Raiders end their 1993 football season with a 12-2 record.

Senior running back Fred Taylor takes time out for relaxation while the Raider defense is on the field.

Members of the Marching Raider Band performed at the football games and cheered their team on to a 12-2 season. After performances by the band, they, like football players, are thirsty too.

Junior tight end Nathaniel Freeman contributed to much of the success of the Raiders during football season.
